

Translator takeover is a form of censorship. Hogging the airwaves for one particular station (or message) keeps others from sharing their points of view. There is no reason to allow multitudes of translators since one station should be enough. LPFM is a vital outlet for local information and news that will otherwise never be heard. I'm from Springfield, VA and I had no LPFM stations to listen to but now that I'm in Richmond and have a station like WRIR I don't understand how so many communities are denied this. Please protect LPFM and keep the airwaves open.
